

1. Announcements & Introduction

Hi PrecisionPlanIT enjoyer,

We will dedicate this space to guides once more in the months to come. I am so-so-so-so sorry to anyone who makes it here by way of links that I dropped in the past that are now deadlinks as none of the content exists anymore...

The original guides located at this site are lost w/o backups due to mishaps with CEPH and poor planning ~ not having backups.

Daily backups ~ Going forward I have daily backups being generated at the end of every day. We are in no fear of losing data again at this point. I will be better as a sysadmin going forward. I knew better, I thought I could procrastinate creating backups another few weeks as it had been 7+ years without and this is the first loss of data since I began hosting content to the WWW... Well no more of that. We have daily backups and we are working towards getting everything back online and better than ever before!

Thank you for your patience and understanding during this relaunch of our services,

Kai ~ aka. SoFMeRight
